

The payment screen shows the balance that the user has with other users. And the balance type (1) divides into credit or debit balance (the user is owed by another person/the user owes another person). Each person contains the creditor's/debtor's initials (2), name (3), and the total outstanding balance (8). The "You Owe" balance has a dropdown menu (7) for every person that user owes to, and the menu allows the user to pay in full (4), make a partial payment (5), or see payment history (6). Note: The "You're Owed By" balance only has a payment history button (9) for every person that owes the user.
